POETRY.

JOHN O' THE SMITHY.

Down in the vale where the mavis sings,
And the brook is turning an old time wheel,
From morn till night the anvil rings,
Where John o' the Smithy is forging steel.
My lord rides out at the castle gate
My lady is grand in bower and hall,
With men and maidens to cringe and wait
And John o' the Smithy must pay for all.

The bishop rides in a coach and four,
His grooms and horses are fat and sleek;
He has lackeys behind and lackeys before;
He rides at a hundred guineas a week.
The anvil is singing its "ten pound ten,"
The mavis pipes from a birchen spray,
And this is the song that fills the glen,
"John o' the Smithy has all to pay."

John has a daughter, rosy and sweet;
My lord has a son with a wicked eye;
When she hears the sound of his horse's feet
Her heart beats quicker—she knows not why.
She will know very well before the end;
She will learn to detest their rank and pride.
When she has the young lord's babe to tend,
While the bishop's daughter becomes his bride.

There will be the old story to tell,
Of tyrannous wrong in places high;
A bishop glazing the deeds of hell,
The priest and the Levite passing by.
And the father may bow his frosted head
When he sees the young bride up at the hall,
And say 'twere better his child were dead;
But John o' the Smithy must bear it all.

The smith and his daughter will pass away,
And another shall make the anvil ring
For the daily bread and the hodden-gray:
But the profits shall go to priest and king;
And over the wide world, day by day,
The smiths shall waken at early morn,
Each to his task in the old dull way,
To tread the measure of priestly corn.

And the smiths shall live on the coarsest fare,
With little that they may call their own,
While the idler is free from work and care,
For the best of all shall go to the drone.
And the smith complains of the anvil's song;
Complains of the years he has wrought and pined;
For the priests and rulers are swift to wrong,
And the mills of God are slow to grind.

But a clear, strong voice from over the sea
Is piercing the murk of the mortal night;
Time is time was, and time shall be
That John o' the Smithy shall have his right;
And those who have worn the mitre and crown,
Who have pressed him sore in body and soul,
Shall perish from earth when the grist is ground,
And the Mighty Miller shall claim his toil.

An Attractive Story.

FROM THE FRENCH OF LOUISE COLET.

Look into your memories, you children who are reading this, and you will find that your mothers have all taken the same tender care of you.

For a few days little Charles was able to botanize in peace among the mountains, and to discover in the mazes a few poor flowers and frail mosses which the snow had spared. But one morning, when his father had awakened earlier than usual to go and see a sick man whom the night before he had left in a dying state, he flew into a violent passion on not finding his son at home. In vain the mother made some excuse. The harsh man was not deceived by it, and declared that the next day the child should be sent to the Latin school at the little town of Vixiæ. The mother burst into tears. The father declared that her tears would do no good; and when little Charles stole into the house, he found that dissensions and grief had entered it through his fault. He endeavored to excuse himself, promising his father a blind obedience for the future. The latter remained inflexible. He went out, ordering the mother to get his things ready, and that he would take himself to Vixiæ the next day.

Ah, how this sudden separation tore the hearts of the mother and child! The mother above all could not resolve to separate herself from her beloved son. Since his birth he had never left her for a single day.

"No, no! it is impossible," she cried, covering her tearful face with her hands.

Charles, distressed by the sight of his mother's tears, stifled his own grief, and tried to encourage her. He said:

"The town where I am going is near here, and we shall see each other often. Then, too, I will work well and fast in order to satisfy my father, and I shall return."

But the mother still wept. A single day of separation was a great anguish. However, knowing that her husband was inflexible in his resolutions, she began to pack her son's clothes in a little trunk. She put at the bottom the beloved and fatal herbal which had been the cause of their separation. Besides this there was a little money in small change, a few sugar plums and dried fruits—household dainties with which the mother delighted to regale the children.

When the pastor returned the trunk was packed, and perceiving that his orders had been followed, he appeared somewhat pacified.

The rest of the day and evening passed without quarrels, but very sadly. The father read his Bible as usual, the little girls knitted beside their mother, as they had done the evening before. Nothing was to be heard but a few stifled sighs or broken words. As for Charles, he was resigned, and bent his head over the Latin exercises which he was translating.

Bedtime had arrived, family prayers were over. Then the son having wished his father good-night, the father replied:

"Good-night, my son. To-morrow, at daybreak, we leave for Vixiæ."

The child bowed silently, stifling his tears.

As soon as her husband was asleep, the mother glided to the bedside of her son on whom she lavished her caresses, and gave him special charges in regard to his health. This was their real farewell, for the next day the stern minister hastened their departure.

As it was very cold, and the roads were covered with snow, our travelers left in a sleigh. The motion and the scenes through which they passed, and which were partly new to him, at last roused Charles from his grief. But when he found himself in the town, so dull and deserted, and, above all, when the time came to enter the dark walls of the Latin school, the poor child felt his heart fail.

His father briefly recommended him to the gravity rather than to the care of the principal, who was a friend of his. Then he returned home, having, as he thought, accomplished his duty.

Charles at first felt lost and deserted, but the friendship and interest which he found in some scholars of his own age restored his courage. He resolved to work, so that his father would be satisfied, and as long as the winter lasted he applied himself vigorously to Latin and theology. When spring came it was to him as a stormy and all-powerful breath which carried him far from the walls of the school, across the mountains and valleys, which began to be covered with growing vegetation. The air which he breathed was full of the scent of flowers and plants. He felt irresistibly drawn toward them. His beautiful dream came back to his mind. He saw in it an emblem of his destiny, and cried, in his present anguish:

"No, no! God did not create me to be a Protestant minister. It is my duty to adore him and proclaim his glory in another way.

He resisted at first the temptations of his unconquerable instincts. But one day, when the whole school was walking in the country, he separated himself from his companions and lost himself amid the rocks, in a gorge carpeted with creeping plants and flowers. There, captivated by Nature, embracing her and caressing her as he might have caressed his mother, in the contemplation of the treasures which offered themselves to him he forgot everything else. Night surprised him while filling his pockets and bosom with the plants which he had collected. Arrested in his ardent search by the darkness, he suddenly remembered the school and its discipline. Terrified at his forgetfulness of the rule, he dared not go back and beg pardon of the principal. Night had come on. Agitated, shivering and overcome with fatigue, he slept in the moss-covered hollow in the rocks. The next day he was found by one of the servants of school, and was taken back like a vagabond.

The principal wrote an account of the son's exploit to the father. The latter believing him to be perverse and incorrigible, replied to the principal that it was evident that his son would make but a poor minister, but that, to punish him for his rebellion, he would humiliate him by making him a workman. He therefore sent directions that he should immediately be placed with a shoemaker as an apprentice.

Charles was of a mild and yielding disposition. He did not resist, and found at first a sort of satisfaction in the half freedom which this new and strange profession left him. Before his day of manuel labor began he could wander through the country, and on Sunday he could spend the whole day there. During the evening and night he classed the plants and flowers which he had collected, and wrote treatises on each of them. But gradually this double and incessant labor of mind and body affected his health. Besides it was a severe trial for him to spend the day with ignorant and coarse companions. He was often sharply addressed when he was silent, was reproached for pride, and sometimes they even tried hard to make him quarrel with them. This struggle with destiny in which he was engaged finally overcame him. He fell suddenly ill, and the master shoemaker, who liked him as one of his best workmen, sent for the most skillful physician of the country.

This was a very learned man named Rothman. When he reached the bedside of poor Charles he found him in a high fever and slightly delirious. The doctor would not arouse him from his uneasy slumber, and studied in silence the symptoms of his illness. He found great excitement of the brain, and he was confirmed in his opinion by seeing on the apprentice's table his herbals and his open manuscripts. He read a few pages of the latter, then suddenly fell into a long reverie while holding the pulse of the invalid, which was very high.

Charles continued to sleep, but his slumber was painful and broken, as if he had been oppressed by some nightmare. Yet he had a beautiful dream, even more glorious than the one he had before under his father's roof, but it did not bring him the same satisfaction. This dream seemed to him a mockery of his present destiny. Sometimes one reasons in dreams. He fancied himself surrounded by four powerful men, with scepters in their hands and crowns on their heads. By their crowns, their arms, and the decorations which they wore, he recognized these men as the King of Sweden, the King of France, the King of England, and the King of Spain. All four smiled on him, spreading treasures at his feet, and placed on his head the coronet of nobility. He, dazzled, struggled against vertigo, and it was this that caused the uneasiness of his slumber.

The good doctor, full of anxiety, followed all the phases of this troubled sleep. At last he administered a quieting draught to the sick boy, whose breathing gradually grew calmer, and at last he awoke without effort. The fever gave way, thanks to the assiduous care of the compassionate physician who had conceived a great friendship for the poor workman. As soon as he was convalescent he lent him the works of Tournefort, one of our celebrated French naturalists, and as Charles ex about four miles around it, wherever the earth is dug, when the workmen arrive at the distance of sixty-three feet, they come to a bed of chalk, which they bore with an augur five feet deep. They then withdraw from the pit before the augur is removed, and, upon its extraction, the water bursts up through the aperture with great violence, and quickly fills the new-made well, which continues full, and is affected neither by rains or drouths. But that which is most remarkable in this operation is the layers of earth as we descend.

At the depth of fourteen feet are found the ruins of an ancient city, paved streets, houses, floors, and different pieces of mosiac work. Under this is found a soft, oozy earth, made up of vegetables, and at twenty-six feet deep, large trees entire, such as walnut-trees, with the walnuts still sticking to the stem, and the leaves in a perfect state of preservation. At twenty-eight feet deep, a soft chalk is found, with a vast quantity of shells, and this bed is eleven feet thick. Under this vegetables are found again, with leaves and branches of trees as before.

A Noble Sentiment.—After the surrender of Cornwallis, as the vanquished troops were marching out with cased colors, and drums beating the sad sound of defeat, Washington said to his troops:

"My brave fellows, let no sensation of satisfaction for the triumph you have gained induce you to insult a fallen foe; let no shouting, no clamorous hurrahing, increase their mortification. It is sufficient satisfaction to us that we witness their humiliation. Posterity will hurrah for us."

The Secret of Health.—There is certainly a smack of good, hygienic sense in the following racy paragraph. Read it and be "healthy, wealthy and wise." We clip from an exchange:

G. W. A.

"First, keep warm. Second, eat regularly and slowly. Third, maintain regular bodily habits. Fourth, take early and very light suppers; or, better still, none at all. Fifth, keep a clean skin. Sixth, get plenty of sleep at night. Seventh, keep cheerful and respectable company. Eighth, keep out of debt. Ninth, don't set your mind on things you don't need. Tenth, mind your own business. Eleventh, don't set up to be a sharp of any kind. Twelfth, subdue curiosity. Thirteenth, avoid drugs."

In Point.

The following article by a correspondent of the Detroit Tribune hits the nail on the head:

You admit that, aside from the suffrage question, the new Constitution is better than the old. No man of common sense will in his heart deny it. Suppose then, you defeat its adoption, what is the result? We have still the old Constitution, which has received the curses of everybody for the last fifteen years. And how stands the suffrage question? Defeated for the time: but how do you suppose it is put to rest? As well put your foot across a rivulet and stops its flow for a moment, supposing it will ever after be dry below! Just as sure as the earth stands, and human hearts throb, the very next Legislature will again send the question to the people, and again, and again, till it is carried. Do you ask why I speak so confidently? I ask you to remember how long since, if a man had advocated the black man's suffrage, almost anywhere, he would have been mobbed? Hundreds were mobbed for only pleading that his slavery might cease. And yet the question has moved right on, as heedless of opposition as the moon of the baying dogs. And do you think that a cause that has thus marched onward almost to its ultimatum, through mobs, and rebellion, and civil war—moving the fastest whenever the opposition was most terrible—is going to stop short of its final consummation? If you do, you ignore all the light of past history, and draw all your conclusions from your feelings instead of from facts.

All human progress has its temporary reverses. Emancipation has had its hindrances; and yet, in view of its success, we now hardly realize the fact, so trifling have they all proved in staying the grand result. You may defeat [u]niversal suffrage for the time, but you [will] not thus end the battle any more [than] traitors ended the battle at Bull [Run]. The leaders of the Democratic [party] hope to defeat it now only by [persuading] several thousands to vote [against] the Constitution for other reasons, conscious that a majority are not [with] them; as is conclusively shown [by] their efforts to decry the Constitution upon various points, when all intelligent men know that they are not candid. Suppose they succeed thus. [Is] a great moral war ended by a trick? But suppose they succeed. The [whole] process of making a Constitution [must] be gone over with again. A hundred thousand dollars expense of getting up the present new Constitution [is] lost, and another hundred thousand [must] soon be expended in framing another, for, do you believe the people [of] this State, now a million in number, [are] going to live quietly under our pre[sent] Fundamental Folly, for twenty, [or] or even five years longer? No [man] believes it. So, then, you defeat [the] Constitution, and involve all the [ex]pense and excitement of procuring [an]other, with no reason to suppose that [it] will be any better, and only delay [for] a time the consummation of the one thing you dislike.

Would it not be better to look calmly at the subject, deal with things as they are, except the logic of events, yield your opposition to the ultimately inevitable, allow the question to be forever settled, and secure all the benefits of a Constitution now offered us after three months study of a hundred honest, able men, without distinction of party and save the delay and expense of doing the work all over again.

Horse Racing at State Fairs.—In his annual address, delivered before the executive committee of the State Agricultural Society, at its winter meeting, held in Detroit during the week, President Beckwith expressed the following in reference to the practice of horse racing at State and County Fairs:

"My opinion upon horse racing at State and County Fairs has undergone no change since I last gave my views upon the subject; on the contrary, I am stronger impressed than ever that much harm results to an annual exhibition where horse racing is encouraged. Nor can I see any good resulting from the adoption of any English custom which is not backed up by the moral sentiment of our people; such, for example, as hurdle races or running horses through board fences. I have no doubt of the superiority of the thorough-bred horse, and would encourage their more general introduction among breeders, yet I do not see the necessity of a jockey race at a State Fair to show their action or test their power of endurance.

"I would suggest in regard to the classes of carriage and gentlemen's driving horses, that a rule be adopted requiring the owners themselves, in all cases, to drive and manage their own horses when competing for a premium; in other words, exclude professional jockeys and horse-trainers from taking charge of and managing this class of horses when on trial and contending for prizes at our State Fairs."

"Away with a jingle and glide they go
Over the face of the beautiful snow."

—President Johnson's counsel will ask 20 days to prepare for trial, but it is thought that the Senate will not grant more than ten days.

—Anna Dickinson was born in 1841.

Now is the day of our opportunity. Strike for equal rights. Put the COMMERCIAL in the hands of every voter.

PRIDE AND SELF-RESPECT.

Some of our citizens talk as if it would be a loss of self-respect to go to the polls or vote at the same poll with a colored man. They will work in a field side by side, ride in a carriage with a colored man, so that it is not evidently fear of being in his company. The simple pharasaic objection is, meeting the colored man on an equality where his vote counts as much as theirs. At the polls every citizen meets "on the level." The feeling and spirit is, "stand aside, I am holier than thou." Every Michigan man who allows such an unholy prejudice to crop out, says to the citizens of Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Maine, Rhode Island, New York, Wisconsin, Iowa, Nevada, Tennessee: "I am holier than you are." You contaminate yourself by going to the polls and voting with colored men. We Michigan men, living on the soil that gave birth to the great Republican party, the professed party of "equal rights," are above this kind of business. Republicanism and Democracy are mere professions with us. Do you think, you granite men of New Hampshire, who have recently won such a glorious victory for humanity, in behalf of the congressional reconstruction, which enfranchises loyalists South, white and black. Do you imagine you noble hearted, large and liberal minded, liberty loving men of New Hampshire, that we are going to let ourselves down on a level with you—you who have gone, lo! these many years, side by side with black men to the polls and put in practice the grand lessons of humanity that you profess to believe. Every Michigan man who votes against the revised Constitution because it clothes the colored citizen with the ballot, thus meanly insults the gallant Republicans of New Hampshire. Aye, every Democrat does the same thing. For the Democracy of New Hampshire gave the colored citizen the ballot. Do the citizens of those States where the colored man votes feel that they disgrace themselves by voting at the same poll? No. Is a Michigan citizen any better? Are we better blood, nobler men than our relatives and fellow-citizens in those States, that we need to feel degraded because a colored neighbor is made our political equal and secures his just rights? Do these citizens where political equality exists feel irresistibly inclined to marry colored women? Are such abnormal cases any more frequent than at present with us in Michigan? Sheer nonsense all these false objections. We say in all gravity to every Republican if he thinks himself holier, of a higher born race, than his fellow-citizens of other States who live not in social, but political equality, with their colored countrymen, then vote against the revised Constitution. If he wishes to insult these men, then vote against the Constitution. If he wants to insult the patriots of the Revolution, the fathers of the Republic, vote against it. But never more profess to be in favor of Republicanism or the purer Democracy of the better days of the Republic.

SALARIES.

Under the present Constitution of this State, the salaries of State Officers and Judge of the Circuit and Supreme Courts amount to about $41,400, while under the new Constitution they would be increased to about $58,600, adding thereby $17,200.

When the present Constitution was adopted, the assessed valuation of taxable property in the State was $27,-280,518, which had in 1866 increased to $307,965,842, and in 1869 when the new Constitution would take effect, doubtless will have reached at least $400,000,000.

If $18,280,518 of taxable property had to pay salaries to the amount of $41,400, the taxpayer whose property was assessed at $5,000 would have to pay under the old Democratic Constitution $7,58 toward salaries, while under the new Republican Constitution the man whose property is assessed at $5,600 will only have to pay for salaries the insignificant sum of seventy-five cents.

It should be stated that the above estimate is not exact as to 1860, because the aggregate salaries have been increased since that time by the increased number of Judges.

The man who is assessed at $1,000, will have to pay the enormous sum of fifteen cents for salaries, under the new Constitution which is hardly five cents more than he would have to pay if the present salaries continue.

What Republican, for the price of a very poor cigar, or a very small glass of very poor whiskey, will abandon the Republican party, with its proud history of loyalty and patriotism, and its faithfulness to the principles of equal and exact justice to all men, and vote with the Democratic party, whose leader says of the martyred President, "Lincoln, the obscure tool of tyrants, promised good and wrought evil—insulted dying men, said nasty stories, made a house of prostitution of the Executive Mansion, and surrounded himself with all that is vile, profligate and infamous, until even God could endure the outrage on a poor people no longer, and in the twinkling of an eye, hurled his soul into hell, there to attone for the wrong done to a nation."

A HUMBUG.

Our Democratic friends are making a great howl over the supposed invasion of Michigan by colored people after the new Constitution shall be adopted. Answer these few questions and then be convinced of the foolishness of the howls: Why don't the New England States have an overplus of colored people? Why not New York State? Why not Wisconsin?—Wisconsin has not unnaturally increased her colored population since enfranchising her colored citizens. Will they come from Canada? Canada places the colored citizen on a political equality with the white. Will they come from the South? There they are enfranchised. Southern negro emigration to the North has stopped. The current is now from North to South. The inevitable course of events is toward universal suffrage—universal justice, universal manhood.

ELECTIONS.

The Republicons have carried New Hampshire by the usual majority of about 3,000. The Democracy made a grand effort here, conscious of its influence on the Presidential campaign. It demonstrates that the people are still with Congress, and have faith in Gen. Grant. Tennessee has gone largely Republican. In New York we hold our own—make some gains and incur some losses.

SOLDIERS: In event of a war in the future, would you like the privilege of voting while you are away from home fighting the battle of your country? Carry the New Constitution and you can vote—reject it and you cannot.

ITEMS.

Gen. Hancock asks to be relieved at New Orleans.

The Republican Convention of Pennsylvania goes strongly for Gen. Grant.

The impeachment trial began yesterday. Johnson is trying to protract the trial, vainly we trust.

Congress has voted to take the 5 per cent. tax off from manufacturers. There is great rejoicing over the fact.

VOTERS OF YPSILANTI TOWNSHIP:

Will it not be more convenient for you, during the next sixteen years, to hold your township elections in the city of Ypsilanti? If so, vote for the New Constitution, which allows it, while the old Constitution prohibits it.

ON THE RECORD.

Our fellow citizen, Judge Ninde, one of the members of the Constitutional Convention, voted for the New Constitution entire. So did every Republican member. Does it not speak volumes in its favor, when such candid men as Judge Ninde give it the weight of their influence.

A Mistake.

We notice that the Tribune and Post credit a telling speech recently made at Marshall to Gen. Cutcheon. The speech was made by our fellow citizen, Hon. S. M. Cutcheon. The general is a brother. We give the report of the Post correspondent.

"Gen. Cutcheon (should be S. M.) of Ypsilanti, who was present, was introduced to the audience, and made a most telling speech, going through the ranks of the Copperhead Democracy and holding their record up to the public scorn. After his scathing review of the Democratic record, the speaker gave his views of the new constitution, complimenting its framers, and closed his speech amidst loud and enthusiastic cheers from the audience.

It is reported that every Republican of Marshall, without exception, is going to vote for the new constitution.

Oxygenized Air;

A CURE FOR

T AARRH,

AND DISEASES OF THE THROAT AND LUNGS,

APPLIED BY

Dr. C. L. Blood,

No. 9 Montgomery Place,

BOSTON, MASS.

CHRONIC CATARRH,

Why entertain this loathsome disease when relief can be obtained? We meet those every day who are suffering from Catarrh to such an extent, that the Air Passages in the head are in a partly decomposed condition,—the nose and throat filled with such a mass of corrupt matter that they are objects of disgust to themselves, and of pity to those with whom they associate.

Chronic Catarrh usually affects the head, fauces and bronchial tubes. It is invariably (a) chronic or inflammatory blood, by which the mucous membrane is made sore or inflamed, producing a copious effusion of viscid matter. If it be produced by Scrofula in the blood it is almost certain to end in Consumption, unless speedily cured, because it is impossible to entirely prevent the matter from running down the Bronchial into the air vesicles, and such is the excoriating or scalding property of the matter, its contact with the delicate linings of the air cells at once causes irritation, and invites the humor alproperties of the blood to deposit therein Tubercles and Ulcers.

Catarrh almost always attends Consumption, and frequently leads to it.

In Oxygenized Air we have a positive cure for this disease. The remedy is taken by inhalation,—breathed directly into the lungs and through them carried into the blood thus as soon as the blood will carry it, it reaches all parts of the system, decomposing the impure matter in the blood and expelling it through the pores, and through the natural channels from the system. Thus you will see that the cause of the disease is removed, and the disease itself must follow.

In the same manner we treat and radically cure Bronchitis and Consumption. Let no one suffering from these diseases despair of relief. If you are too far away to visit our office and see us personally, write a description of your symptoms, and forward to the address below.

Send for our circular, which gives a full description of these diseases.

Out of the many thousands of testimonials received we publish the following:—

DR. C. L. BLOOD,

Dear Sir: I desire to give you my testimony in regard to the value of your scientific system of treating Catarrh and diseases of the Respiratory organs. I have used your remedy, "Oxygenized Air," in my practice for the last year with complete success. I have cured the worst forms of Catarrh, and a majority of the cases of Bronchitis and Consumption in their advanced stages. I unqualfidely pronounce "Oxygenized Air" the greatest boon ever yet conferred upon our suffering race, and hope the day is not far distant when every intelligent physician will adopt your system in the treatment of all forms of chronic affections.

Fraternally yours,

DR. C. L. BLOOD,

My Dear Sir: I have tested your remedy, "Oxygenized Air" in advanced stages of Catarrh, Bronchitis and Consumption, and the results have been, in the highest sense, satisfactory; so positive am I of its wonderful power to arrest the progress of the above named diseases, that I can conscientiously advise all who may be suffering from them to place themselves under the treatment at once.

Respectfully yours,

Our standard goods all bear our Trade Mark on the bags, and no others are genuine. Parties will please bear this mind, as our great success has induced some unprincipled parties in New other places to imitate p goods as near as they dare to—to entrap the unwary.

They are put up in the unique and beautiful style of the Chinese in one pound packages, and we will sell them in the original packages at cargo prices; the Hyson at $1.60; the Oolong at $1.20. We imported the first invoice that has reached this country, and have effected arrangements through our agents in China to receive them regularly hereafter.

FANCY BRANDS.

Having had many calls from our trade for a fancy brand of Oolong and Young Hyson Teas, we have been induced to put up in one pound sealed packages a fancy flavored NING YONG OOLONG and NANKIN MOYUNE YOUNG HYSON, which we are offering at $1.25 per pound for Oolong and $1.50 for Young Hyson. The only advantage these Teas possess over our regular styles is the fancy flavor.

A NOVELTY IN TEAS.

Teas sixty days from Japan.

We are now receiving Uncolored Japan Teas by way of Pacific Mail Steam Ship Co.'s new route, direct from Yokakema via San Francisco. Put up for us in Japan in one pound papers. The usual time allowed for a cargo of Teas from Japan is one year and a half, but American enterprise has enabled us to offer to our customers, Japan Teas as fresh as the natives themselves can procure them. Owing to the heavy freights, we are obliged to charge $1.40 per pound.

GROUND COFFEES.

PURE RIO, 20, 25 and 30 cents per pound.
BEST OLD GOVERNMENT JAVA, 40 cents per pound.
ROYAL CLUB—Extra fine—35 cents.

All goods are put up by ourselves in one pound packages at our Warehouse in New York and retailed at Ypsilanti by Smith Bros. at a small advance of 5 cents a pound over our New York prices. This brings our goods at the prices they can be purchased over our counters, with the freight added. We solicit a fair and thorough trial.

Theodore Tilton.

This earnest, eloquent lecturer will talk in Hewitt Hall to our citizens Monday evening next, on 'The State of the Country" We believe that it will be really the most attractive lecture of the season. Mr. Tilton fairly took our citizens by storm last winter. In this exciting crisis in our national affairs we shall gladly hear from our leading minds of both parties. Mr. Tilton, the editor of the Independent, is becoming as renowned a journalist as Greeley, with the additional advantage of being one of our very ablest orators.

St. Patrick's Day, Tuesday, March 17th, 1868.

The members of the St. John's (catholic) church of this city, intend to celebrate the anniversary of the apostle of Ireland, with an entertainment and a lecture at Hewitt Hall.

The entertainment, at which the ladies will have their refreshment tables in readiness, and which will be enlivened with appropriate songs by the children of the catholic school and with other music, will com, mence early in the afternoon and last till evening.

The lecture by T. T. McDonnell, of the law department of our University, will commence at 6½ and will be in accordance with the celebration of the day. The congregation of St. John's church wish by this celebration to raise means to discharge a small debt contracted for the building of their school, at which the children are educated free and at which there are now about 125 children of our city receiving their education.

They hope that the friends of education based on religion and in accordance with the principle of freedom of conscience, will favor them with their patronage.

A MISTAKEN IDEA CORRECTED.—Mrs. Wm. R. Remele, of Middlebury, Vt., under date of July 7, 1866, writes: "I wish to speak a word for your machine. Before using it, I was strongly impressed with the idea that a 'double-threaded' machine must be superior; but, after having used your machine two and a half years, I am prepared to say that—I would not exchange the Wilcox & Gibbs for any 'double-threaded' machine I have ever seen."

Meeting at Stony Creek.

Tuesday evening last a large political gathering was held at Stony Creek. Geo. Harmon was called to the Chair. Mr. Malone, a colored man, addressed the people on the subject of equal, manhood suffrage. He refuted and tore into shreds the often repeated tale that this is a "white man's government." From the earliest history of the Republic, colored men were esteemed citizens, enrolled in the armies and shed their blood for the preservation of American liberty. The Fathers felt that representation and taxation are twin sisters. Gen. Jackson at New Orleans called the colored soldiers to his aid, entitling them Americans. Every body knows the part they took in the late civil war. They are more competent to vote than the more illiterate class of white people. The most illiterate negro at the South knew enough to side with the loyalists, which was more than thousands of white men knew. The meeting had a good influence, and a number of doubtful voters declared their intention to vote for the new constitution.

Mr. M. dispelled the delusion of marriage between the races. As much repugnance on the part of the black people as the white. The mere privilege of voting did not make any more affinity than now exists. But if a Democrat was so bent on intermarriage as to require a law to prevent it, Republicans would be foolish to enact one. As for all thinking people, no such law would be required.

On motion of Mr. Gott, the Convention proceeded to the election of eight delegates to represent this County in the State Convention, each representative district nominating its own delegate.

The following delegates were presented:

First District—S. M. Cutcheon, Allen Crittenden; F. D. Lane, Jas. A. Dwight, Alternates.

Second District—John C. Mead, Phillip Bach; J. G. Leeland, L. Davis, Alternates.

Fourth District—H. Arnold, J. H. Bradford.

On motion of Chas. Tripp, the delegates nominated were elected and the delegation empowered to fill vacancies.

Charles Holmes, jr., presented the question of the propriety of electing a county committee. S. M. Cutcheon moved that we proceed to the election of a chairman (at large) and that the different districts present to the convention the names of persons to serve on their county committee. Herfollowed considerable discussion on the importance of commencing at once a vigorous prosecution of the work of the campaign. Dr. Chase, the present chairman of the county committee, tendered his resignation. One or two amendments were here offered. One by Mr. Crittenden, to elect a chairman only, another by Mr. Smith, to add three new members to the present committee. A division of the question being called for, the motion to elect a chairman was carried, and the convention voting by ballot. John T. Thompson received the highest number of votes, was on motion of Chas. Tripp, declared elected. On motion, the convention then resolved itself into districts and presented the following names as members of the county committee, which were decided elected: James A. Dwight, Samuel Grisson, Alfred Miller, A. D. Crane. The following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That the convention are in favor of U. S. Grant for President and Jacob M. Howard for Vice President.

S. M. Cutcheon presented the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That it is the duty as well as the true policy of the Republican party of Michigan to endeavor by all honorable means to secure the adoption of the constitution submitted to the electors at the April election.

After a few remarks from Mr. Sullivan of Detroit, the convention adjourned.

The New Constitution.

There will be a meeting of the Grant Club at Hewitt Hall on Wednesday evening March 18th, at which time the public will be addressed by Hon. Thos. Ninde, S. M. Cutcheon and speakers from abroad. Let all come and hear the new constitution discussed.

Stove Plagiarisms and Thefts.

A genuine article always has imitations. Counterfeiting and plagiarism are two very mean crimes. The American Cooking Stove, for instance, has such an established reputation, that a number of worthless stoves have been designed, and given names so nearly like that of the standard article, that persons not fully familiar with the facts are frequently deceived into buying that which they do not want. The stove is the result of careful and practical experiments, which have cost time and money, and he would plagiarize its reputation by a close imitation of its name or design, is trying to deceive the public and is as bad as a thief. The Stove has several useful and valuable improvements, which, to copy, is to appropriate the product of arduous labor, in violation of law, for they are all secured by several letters patent. But this has not deterred other stove manufacturers from endeavoring to appropriate the improvements. This has become so frequent, that a few months since Messrs. Shear & Packard were compelled to commence legal proceedings, turning their attention first to some parties in Buffalo, against whom they have obtained a perpetual injunction for infringement. More recently, suits have been begun against several parties in Troy, also. They have determined, in all these and other cases of infringement, to follow them up, until this appropriation of their inventions and improvements shall cease. And they should certainly do so; for that which their letters patent secures to them is very valuable and important.—Albany Evening Journal.

The American Cooking Stove In Court.

At an adjourned term of the Circuit Court of the United States, for the Northern District of New York, in the second circuit held at the City Hall, in the city of Albany, the 28th day of January, in the year of our Lord 1868.

PRESENT:

The Honorable Nathan K. Hall, Judge.

J. H. Shear & J. Packard, vs. G. B. Bull & J. M. Rockwell. } In Equity.

It is further ordered, adjudged and decreed that a perpetual injunction be issued in this suit against the defendants, restraining them from further infringements of said Patent, No. 51,406, dated Dec. 5th, 1865, for improvements in cooking stoves, pursuant to and in accordance with the prayer of the Bill of Complaint.

Signed A. A. BOYCE, Clerk.

The above suit was instituted for infringement of the Patent securing the manner of fitting the ash pan in the hearth of the American Cooking Stove, and for the combination of the bailed ash pan. We have repeatedly cautioned the public against selling or using stoves with these improvements not manufactured by us. All persons now selling or using stoves with these improvements in violation of the above injunction, without license from us, will be liable to fine and imprisonment.

Such a remedy is surely wanted by those who suffer from Strumous complaints, and that one which will accomplish their cure must prove, as this has proved, of immense service to this large class of our afflicted fellow-citizens. How completely this compound will do it, has been proven by experiment on many of the worst cases to be found in the following complaints:—

Scrofula, Scrofulous Swellings and Sores, Skin Diseases, Pimples, Pustules, Blotches, Eruptions, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, &c.

Syphilis or Venereal Disease is expelled from the system by the prolonged use of this SARSAPARILLA, and the patient is left in comparative health.

Female Diseases are caused by scrofula in the blood, and are often soon cured by this EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA.

Do not reject this invaluable medicine, because you have been imposed upon by something pretending to be Sarsaparilla, while it was not. When you have used AYER'S—then, and not till then, will you know the virtues of Sarsaparilla. For minute particulars of the diseases it cures, we refer you to Ayer's American Almanac, which the agent below named will furnish gratis to all who call for it.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN BITTERS,
AND
Hoofland's German Tonic.

Prepared by Dr. C. M. JACKSON,
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

The Great Remedies for all Diseases
OF THE
LIVER, STOMACH, OR DIGESTIVE ORGANS.

Hoofland's German Bitters

Is composed of the pure juices (or, as they are medicinally termed, Extracts) of Roots, Herbs and Barks, making a preparation, highly concentrated, and entirely free from Alcoholic admixture of any kind.

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC,

Is a combination of all the ingredients of the Bitters, with the purest quality of Santa Cruz Rum, Orange, etc., making one of the most pleasant and agreeable remedies ever offered to the public.

Those preferring a Medicine free from Alcoholic admixture, will use

Hoofland's German Bitters.

In cases of nervous depression, when some alcoholic stimulus is necessary,

HOOFLAND'S GERMAN TONIC

should be used.

The Bitters or the Tonic are both equally good, and contain the same medicinal virtues.

The stomach, from a variety of causes, such as Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Nervous Debility, etc., is very apt to have its functions deranged. The result of which is, that the patient suffers from several or more of the following diseases:

Constipation, Flatulence, Inward Piles, Fulness of Blood to the Head, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Heartburn, Disgust for Food, Fulness or Weight in the Stomach, Sour Eructations, Sinking or Fluttering at the Pit of the Stomach, Swimming of the Head, Hurried or Difficult Breathing, Fluttering at the Heart, Choking or Suffocating Sensations when in a Lying Posture, Dimness of Vision, Dots or Webs before the Sight, Dull Pain in the Head, Deficiency of Perspiration, Yellowness of the Skin and Eyes, Pain in the Side, Back, Chest, Limbs, etc., Sudden Flushes of Heat, Burning in the Flesh, Constant Imaginings of Evil, and Great Depression of Spirits.

These remedies will effectually cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Chronic or Nervous Debility, Chronic Diarrhœa, Disease of the Kidneys, and all Diseases arising from a Disordered Liver, Stomach, or Intestines.

DEBILITY,

Resulting from any Cause whatever; PROSTRATION OF THE SYSTEM, induced by Severe Labor, Hardships, Exposure, Fevers, etc.

There is no medicine extant equal to these remedies in such cases. A tone and vigor is imparted to the whole System, the appetite is strengthened, food is enjoyed, the stomach digests promptly, the blood is purified, the complexion becomes sound and healthy, the yellow tinge is eradicated from the eyes, a bloom is given to the cheeks, and the weak and nervous invalid becomes a strong and healthy being.

Persons Advanced in Life,

And feeling the hand of time weighing heavily upon them, with all its attendant ills, will find in the use of this BITTERS, or the TONIC, an elixir that will instil new life into their veins, restore in a measure the energy and ardor of more youthful days, build up their shrunken forms, and give health and happiness to their remaining years.

NOTICE.

It is a well-established fact that fully one-half of the female portion of our population are seldom in the enjoyment of good health; or, to use their own expression, "never feel well." They are languid, devoid of all energy, extremely nervous, and have no appetite.

To this class of persons the BITTERS, or the TONIC, is especially recommended.

WEAK AND DELICATE CHILDREN

Are made strong by the use of either of these remedies. They will cure every case of MARASMUS, without fail.

Thousands of certificates have accumulated in the hands of the proprietor, but space will allow of the publication of but a few. Those, it will be observed, are men of note and of such standing that they must be believed.

TESTIMONIALS.

Hon. Geo. W. Woodward.

Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Pa., writes: Philadelphia, March 16, 1867.

"I find 'Hoofland's German Bitters' is a good tonic, useful in diseases of the digestive organs, and of great benefit in cases of debility, and want of nervous action in the system. Yours truly,

GEO. W. WOODWARD."

Hon. James Thompson.

Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, April 28, 1866.

"I consider 'Hoofland's German Bitters' a valuable medicine in case of attacks of Indigestion or Dyspepsia. I can certify this from my experience of it.

Yours, with respect,

JAMES THOMPSON."

From Rev. Joseph H. Kennard, D. D.,

Pastor of the Tenth Baptist Church, Philadelphia.

Dr. Jackson—Dear Sir I have been frequently requested to connect my name with recommendations of different kinds of medicines, but regarding the practice as out of my appropriate sphere, I declined; but with a clear proof in various instances and particularly in my own family, of the usefulness of Dr. Hoofland's German Bitters, I depart for once from my usual course, to express my full conviction that, for general debility of the system, and especially for Liver Complaint, it is a safe and valuable preparation. In some cases it may fail; but usually, I doubt not, it will be very beneficial to those who suffer from the above causes.

Yours, very respectfully,

J. H. KENNARD,
Eighth, below Coates St.

From Rev. E. D. Fendall,

Assistant Editor Christian Chronicle, Philadelphia.

I have derived decided benefit from the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, and feel it my privilege to recommend them as a most valuable tonic, to all who are suffering from general debility or from diseases arising from derangement of the liver. Yours truly,

E. D. FENDALL.

AS AN APERIENT,

There is no medicine so much in favor with those who are acquainted with their action as Roback's Blood Pills; they are safe, pleasant and mild in their operation, and are purely vegetable; can be taken by children as well as adults; try them. C. C. Kingsbury agent Ypsilanti.

BAD TASTE

In the mouth in the morning is one of the symptoms of a billious condition or disordered state of the liver, and should not for a single day, be neglected, as it is but the premonitory symptom of a train of evils and the very seeds of disease. Procure at once Roback's Blood Pills, administer them according to the directions accompanying each box, and the difficulty and danger of diseases will at once be removed. C. C. Kingsbury, agent, Ypsilanti,

NOT A BEVERAGE.

Unlike most of the bitters of the present day. Dr. Roback's are not intended as a pleasant stimulating whisky beverage, but are perfectly medicinal, containing only sufficient pure bourbon whisky to hold in solution the medicinal extractive matter from which they are composed. C. C. Kingsbury, agent, Ypsilanti. 209-3m

ERYSIPELAS,

Or, St. Anthony's Fire, can be most effectually eradicated by the use of Roback's Blood Purifier in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills. C. C. Kingsbury, agent Ypsilanti.

OPTHALMIA,

Or, Inflammation of the Eyes, not unfrequently arises from a disordered state of the stomach; a few doses of Roback's Blood Pills will, in most cases, effect a cure by removing the cause. C. C. Kingsbury, agent Ypsilanti

Keep Your Blood Pure.

There are no remedies, now before the public, so well calculated to purify the blood and reconstruct (so to speak) the whole system as Roback's Blood Purifier, Blood Pills and Stomach Bitters. C. C. Kingsbury, agent, Ypsilanti.

LEUCORRŒA,

Or, Whites, which follow local debility and constitutional weakness, can be effectually cured by the use of Roback's Stomach Bitters. Do not let the druggist sell you any other remedy, as these Bitters are prepared with especial reference to this complaint, and are warranted to cure. C. C. Kingsbury, agent, Ypsilanti.

SLEEPLESS NIGHTS.

As a remedy to soothe all nervous excitement, and in its truest sense, a NERVINE, their is, perhaps, no medicine extant which is received with so much favor as Roback's Stomach Bitters; a wine glass full on going to bed is all that is required to produce sound and healthful sleep. C. C. Kingsbury, agent Ypsilanti.

AN INVALUABLE MEDICINE
FOR THE PURIFYING OF THE BLOOD.

DR. J. W. POLAND'S

HUMOR DOCTOR.

A Positive Remedy for all kinds of Humors,

PARTICULARLY

Erysipelas, Nettle-Rash, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, Carbuncles, Boils, and Piles.

It is very easy to say of this, or of any other medicine, "It is the very best remedy known." It is not always so easy to prove it. It is, however, exceedingly gratifying to the Proprietor of this medicine, that, while he delares to the public that this is a most wonderful and effective specific for Humors, as stated above, he has abundant proof at hand to sustain his statement.

For sixteen years the HUMOR DOCTOR has been manufactured and sold, and every year has increased the value of its reputation, and the amount of its sales. In New Hampshire, where it originated, no remedy for Humors is so highly prized. An eminent physician (now an army surgeon) when practising in New Hampshire, purchased between fifty and sixty gallons of it, during some seven or eight years, and used it in his practice. He has since then ordered it for the hospital where he was stationed. Other physicians have purchased it, and have used it in practice with great success. When the Proprietor lived in New Hampshire, at Goffstown Centre, for the space of thirty or forty miles around, and in Manchester particularly, the HUMOR DOCTOR was well known and highly valued for the numerous and wonderful cures which it effected. Though manufactured in large quantities the supply was frequently exhausted, and purchasers had to wait for more to be made. In that region some very severe cases of Erysipelas were treated with it—and they were cured! Erysipelas sores, or carbuncles, those ugly, painful ulcers, were entirely removed wherever this medicine was faithfully used. So it was with Scrofula and Salt Rheum. The HUMOR DOCTOR cured them.

For the sake of showing what is thought of it, a few testimonials are here inserted:

Milton Gale, Esq., Boston.

I hereby certify that I was sorely afflicted with Boils for two years, developing themselves upon my limbs and other parts of my body. The sufferings which I endured from them are indescribable. Suffice it to say that I faithfully tried several of the most popular humor remedies, but without removing the affliction. At length, by the earnest request of an intimate friend, I was induced to try Dr. J. W. Poland's Humor Doctor, and am very happy to attest that all my Boils were removed, and my health was restored by using Dr. Poland's aforesaid medicine.

BOSTON, Jan. 14, 1856. MILTON GALE.

Mrs. Wheeler, Stoneham, Mass.

I very confidently and earnestly recommend Dr. J. W. Poland's Humor Doctor as an excellent remedy for Humors, having been wonderfully benefited by it myself. My own case was a very severe and obstinate one. For more than two years the skin upon the inside of both my hands, and even down on the wrist, was constantly cracked and broken up, so that I was unable to use my hands in any kind of wet work, and was obliged to wear gloves in sewing to avoid getting blood upon my work. The humor which so afflicted me was probably a combination of Erysipelas and Salt Rheum. My general health was quite poor. Soon after I began to use the Humor Doctor I could perceive signs of healing. I continued to take the medicine till I was finally cured. My hands are now perfectly free from humors, and to all appearances my whole system is clear of it, and has been for several months. I used eight bottles before I felt sure to give it up entirely, but they cured me. HARRIET WHEELER.

STONEHAM, Mass., July 6, 1856.

Mrs. Porter, Dover, N. H.

DOVER, N. H., July 22, 1855.

DR. POLAND: I received your letter inquiring as to the effects of your medicine on sea-sickness. I am happy to say that I think it is "the medicine" for that dreadful sickness. I tried various prescriptions, but found none that settled the stomach and cleared the head like the Humor Doctor. I felt as though I could hardly wait to get ashore, to entreat you to introduce it into ship chandlery stores, that it may find its way to those who suffer upon the mighty deep from sea-sickness. If captains who take their families with them, or carry passengers, should try it for once, they would never be willing to voyage without it.

Yours, HARRIET M. PORTER.

Much more might be stated in relation to this medicine, as contained in testimonials, but it is needless. Ask Manchester druggists about it, especially E. W. Blake, at Barr's. Inquire of Mr. Henry Plumer, of Bedford, whose wife was cured by it of Salt Rheum. Ask almost any person in Goffstown, and they will declare its value as a remedy, as used in their own cases or by their friends.

Has stood the test of seven years trial by the public: and no preparation for the hair yet discovered will produce the same beneficial results. It is a new scientific discovery, combining the most powerful and restorative agents in the VEGETABLE KINGDOM. It restores GRAY HAIR TO ITS ORIGINAL YOUTHFUL COLOR. It makes the scalp white and clean; cures dandruff and humors, and falling out of the hair; and will make it grow upon bald heads, except in very aged persons, as it furnishes the nutritive principle by which the hair is nourished and supported. It makes the hair moist, soft, and glossy, and is unsurpassed as a HAIR DRESSING. It is the cheapest preparation ever offered to the public, as one bottle will accomplish more and last longer than three bottles of any other preparation.

It is recommended and used by the First Medical Authority.

The wonderful results produced by our Sicilian Hair Renewer have induced many to manufacture preparations for the Hair, under various names; and in order to induce the trade and the public to purchase their compounds, they have resorted to falsehoods, by claiming they were former partners, or had some connection with our Mr. Hall, and their preparation was similar to ours. Do not be deceived by them! Purchase the original; it has never been equalled. Our Treatise on the Hair, with certificates, sent free by mail. See that each bottle has our private Revenue Stamp over the top of the bottle. All others are imitations.

A WORD TO THE PUBLIC.

As the forms of disease for which we prescribe the Compound have their origin in the blood, it cannot reach the seat of pain or disease unless it is carried to it by the circulation. The Compound, going into the blood, THE CITADEL OF THE DISEASE, drives it from its stronghold, and the victim is relieved.

Having been afflicted with the Neuralgia in my face for six months, I found indeed no relief, although I employed the best physicians. Hearing highly recommended, I was induced to try your Compound, and I found it the only relief. I can therefore say to all who are troubled with this painful disease, that they cannot do better than to use the Neuralgia. Yours respectfully,

DR. GARDINER, Proprietor Gardiner's Rheumatic and Neuralgic Compound:

Dear Sir:—It is with great pleasure that I testify to the merits of your invaluable medicine. Having been afflicted with rheumatism for more than a year and using one bottle of your Rheumatic and Neuralgic Compound, I am happy to say that I am entirely relieved from my suffering, and can heartily recommend it to all afflicted with rheumatism. I have used many remedies without success, and am happy to say that your Compound is the only one that has done me any good. I can therefore say to all who are troubled with this painful disease, that they cannot do better than to use the Neuralgia. Yours respectfully,

RHEUMATIC AND NEURALGIC

This wonderful Medicine—entirely vegetable in its character—has never failed in effecting a permanent cure in a single instance. Wherever it has been introduced it has met with the most marked success. Address in Behalf of Prohibition to the Citizens of Michigan.

At a Convention of temperance men called for the State, and held in the city of Detroit, Oct. 30th, the undersigned were appointed an Executive Committee to supervise a canvass of the State, preparatory to a vote on the first Monday in April, 1868; involving Constitutional prohibition of the traffic in intoxicating liquors. No sane man at this day denies the terrible evils produced by the liquor traffic. Facts of daily occurrence, and the experience and observation of every one, demonstrate beyond cavil, that the tragic in intoxicating drinks produces more crime, poverty, and misery in our country, than all other causes combined. It would be a work of supererogation to array facts, and arguments to prove this.

The question, and the only question is, what shall be done to dry up this polluted stream of demoralization and ruin?

Two remedies are proposed; and every voter in this State is expected next April, by his ballot, to decide which of these remedies shall be adopted: To-wit: "Constitutional Prohibition," or "License." There were 24,000 petitions asking the Constitutional Convention for "Prohibition," and 21,600 for "License." Both parties agree in one thing. They both ask that the liquor traffic may be restrained by law. There was not a single petition for free, unrestrained sale. If then the universal voice of the people demands that this traffic shall be restrained by law, the question returns, shall the law restrain it entirely or only partially?

Let us enquire 1st, what is the design, and what are the functions of law? Law in its very nature, enjoins right and prohibits wrong; or rather it is enacted to protect the right and punish the wrong. Laws based upon any other principle would be fit only for the infernal regions. All our laws are, or should be, based upon the law given upon Mount Sinai. To enact laws legalizing and protecting wrong, is to make human laws conflict with the Divine law. The advocates of "Prohibition" are accused of wishing to enact sumptuary laws, to invade personal liberty. If the friends of prohibition had ever asked for a law to restrain a man, or punish him for doing good, or transacting a business beneficial to the community, there would be some ground for the accusation. Those who make this charge confound liberty and right. Every man has the liberty to commit crime, but no man has the right. When any any man uses his liberty in committing crime, he subjects himself justly to the penalty of law.

The advocates of License assert that a license law can be enforced, while a prohibitory law cannot. They say a license law will shut up nine out of ten of the liquor shops. The logic of the assertion is this: You can restrain nine, but the tenth you cannot. A license being absolute prohibition to the nine unable to pay the amount required, and a protection to the tenth who is able. By licensing one you can effectually restrain and prohibit nine. What an immense fellow that tenth man is? What wonderful self-sacrifice the nine exhibit for the benefit of the one! All the benefit to the community derived from license is found in its "prohibition." If none were prohibited it would be universal license.

What are the facts in regard to "License?" With only some recent exceptions, the universal policy from the first settlement of this country has been to restrain the sale of intoxicating drinks by license laws; and the result has been, that to this traffic, more than to all other causes combined, may be traced the murders, burglaries, robberies, thefts, debauchery, poverty, wretchedness and misery that prevail in this country. Has the license to any considerable extent diminished the amount sold? Most emphatically we answer no!

Commission merchants and produce dealers pay a license. Does the license restrain the sale, or diminish the amount sold? Is it any wonder that the earnest temperance men in this State, who have battled against this monster vice, should protest and war against this system "which is evil, and that continually?" Prohibitory laws are of recent date, and in only a very few of the States. They have not been in operation long enough to determine with certainty the result we may expect from their enforcement.—Yet what are the facts so far as we are able to gather them!

Maine passed the prohibitory law. It was in force some two years or more and was fought with all the malice that rumsellers and rum drinkers were capable of. The State then went back to the old policy of license, and two years after, changed to prohibition.—The legislature, last winter, by an overwhelming majority increased the penalties. This last act has been in force since last April.

Mr. Nye, Chief of the State Constabulary says that "ninety out of every one hundred in the liquor business have abandoned the sale." He further says that "there is not one-tenth the liquor sold and drank there was two years ago."

"The whole expense of the Constabulary for the past six months will not much exceed $9,000; and from this sum is to be deducted the fines collected. At the outside the Constabulary system cannot cost on an average over five cents to each individual in the State per year, while at the same time it will save to each fifty times that amount, and to many what is of immensely greater value—reputation, happiness, and life itself." In Massachusetts the past year the State Constabulary collected in fines sufficient to pay their own bills, and then turned over a balance of $100,639 into the State Treasury. Last fall a majority against Prohibition were elected to the Legislature, and since that time all efforts to enforce the law have ceased, and the result has been a vast increase in the sale of intoxicating drinks, and consequently drunkenness, vice and crime.

In [illegible] this [illegible] danger threatens. In many places throughout the State, from necessity if from no higher motive, to save their neighbors, sons, brothers, and even fathers, the people have appealed to this law successfully, and effectually. There the law stands. The transgressor knows it and fears it. Aye, as the wily savage thirsting for blood avoids the house where the trusty rifle is ready for use, so the rumseller fears and hates the prohibitory law.

Citizens of Michigan, which will you have,—a law by which you can shut up or chain this demon, or one that shall license or protect him? It is for you to decide. Recollect, "everything grows by what it feeds on." Under license, by experience, you know what the growth and harvest has been and will be. As in nature, so in morals; so of the public sentiment. Teach the people that to lessen or destroy an evil you must license and protect it, that "evil will cure itself if let alone," or "one evil will abate or destroy another," and you annihilate all distinction between right and wrong, and demoralization is certain. Satan does not cast out Satan. Friends of truth and righteousness, of sobriety and purity, will you prepare for the contest at the ballot-box next April? Then go to work and organize in every county, town and school district! Agitate! agitate! Talk with your neighbors, your friends, your family, at the fireside, in public and private. And to crown all, see that every friend of the good cause votes for prohibition. If you will do this, victory is certain. Work! work! work! "All things are possible to him that believeth." No great good has ever been accomplished in this fallen world without earnest, persevering labor.

BEAUTIFUL AND TRUE.—In an article in Frazer's Magazine, this brief but beautiful extract occurs:

"Education does not commence with the alphabet. It begins with a mother's look, with a father's smile of approbation or reproof—with a sister's gentle pressure of the hand, or a brother's noble act of forbearance—with bird's nests admired and not touched—with creeping ants, and almost impossible summits—with humming-bees and great bee-hives—with pleasant walks and shady lanes, and with thoughts directed in sweet and kindly tones and words to nature, to acts of benevolence, to deeds of virtue, and to the source of all good—to God himself."

PULMOMIC LIFE SYRUP,
INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, COUGHS,

Colds, Croup, Arthma, Liver Complaints, Dyspepsia and General Debility. For several years I have been urged by kind friends, who have used, and been benefitted by, my Life Syrup, to put it up for general sale; but few know the large expense, now that the country is flooded with Patent Medicines, which attend the same. For years past I was reluctant to do so, as the capital required would be large, and I do not wish to curtail the operations of my Venetian Liniment business. But, thanks to the generous public, who have appreciated my Venetian Liniment, I am now able to do so, without any detriment to my large business in that medicine. The foundation of my success I attribute to attending to the manufacture of every drop myself, and shall do the same in regard to my Pulmonic Life Syrup. The Ingredients are perfectly harmless, but act on the Lungs and Liver with astonishing effect. Price 75 cents. Depot, No. 56 Cortlandt Street, New York, near Jersey City Ferry.
